

I urge you to retain and even tighten the present rules. There is far too much consolidation and control by a few corporations now, and those of us waiting for filing windows to open (what century will that be?) will have even less opportunity for ownership. With nearly everything on radio and tv these days originating from the powerful few that seem to get whatever they want from Michael Powell, the next step would be to give them some free offices and studios right there in the FCC building.. Vote on the side of the public and stop the broadcast monopolizing!!!!
